LifeLine - [The new Washington State law legalizing assisted suicide] represents a dangerous new assault on the culture of life. Of special concern is the threat that legalizing assisted suicide poses for vulnerable persons, who are already at risk of marginalization by an individualistic and utilitarian perspective of life. Those most at risk from this dangerous change in public policy are elderly persons, those without adequate health care, people with disabilities and those with no family support system.

--Bishops of Washington State, "Respecting Life at the End of Life"

Pentecost

"But when He comes, the Spirit of truth, He will guide you to all truth.... 'the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control...if we live in the Spirit, let us also follow the Spirit.'"

The great day of Pentecost found pilgrims from all places gathered in Jerusalem for the Jewish feast. The first followers of Jesus were there too, as Jesus had instructed them to 'wait in the city until the Spirit comes.' The events of that holyday changed the world forever.

The signs of tongues of fire, the roar of the wind and the babbling in many languages were manifestation of the coming of the Spirit to change lives, to change hearts, to change the world, to make people one. The gift of the presence of the Holy Spirit did this beginning that day.

We live in a time of a new Pentecost, when the fruits of the Spirit's presence in our lives replace the fire, wind and words. As John Paul called us to a new evangelization, he spoke of a new ardor, enthusiasm and expressions. Are these not the same signs which we are called to implement today? Fire, wind and words, ardor, enthusiasm and methods, what an equation!

Reread the nine fruits enumerated above. Look into your own heart to see which of these stand out. Consider some family member or friend. Which one or ones seem best to reflect their living. If some are missing in your own life, ask the Spirit to bring them to life in you.

Mantra: 'If we live by the Spirit, let us also follow the Spirit.'
